

Constructing Excellence Pocket Legislation Guide Publication Order Form

This useful guide, due to be launched in April 2007, has been produced specifically to address environmental legislation relating to the construction industry. It is spiral bound with tabbed inserts to identify each section for ease of use on site. It will:

- increase awareness of environmental legislation
- impart and promote environmental legislative compliance on site
- provide a useful reference tool for environmental training situations
- support the implementation of environmental management systems
- promote an understanding of the role of environmental regulators
